Are Co-Sponsors
Of Affair

Climaxing the gala fiesta celebration in the Daly City Colma community this week will be a festive street dance held Thursday night, February 16, immediately following the big all-town party at the Daly City theatre.

Sponsored by the Night Owl club and merchants of southern Daly City and Colma, the dance will be staged at the junction of San Pedro road and Mission street, opposite the Colma bank.

Music will be furnished by Bottini's Orchestra, playing from a covered wagon elaborately massed with flowers. Dancers in the celebrating throng will be in gay Western and Spanish attire.

DALY CITY CREAMERY "SHINES FOR '39"

"Shine for '39 Spirit" appears again this week at the top of the hill. The Daly City Creamery, owned and managed by Lee Jorgensen, installed a new fourteen by seven foot neon sign in front of the establishment at 6288 Mission street.

Entirely redecorated in a cream and chromium color scheme the interior of the creamery is illuminated by a modernistic indirect lighting system. Major new feature is the swank 20-foot ice cream bar.

"Business has been fairly good during the past year," Jorgensen said, "and we look forward to the fair year with great optimism."

Baseball Scheduled For Next Sunday

Due to rain, the long anticipated contest between Eddie White's Daly City team and Pat Sloan's Daly City Recreation department nine had to be called off last Sunday. However, weather permitting, the game will take place Sunday, February 19, at 2 p. m. on the Jefferson Union high school diamond.

The managements of the two teams are looking for a banner crowd of fans to cheer their favorites in what promises to be the most exciting game of the year.

New Golden Gate Atlas Plant

Golden Gate Atlas Serves Public Well

New Plant Adds Much To Community
Appearance

A distinctive pioneer in the building materials supply business, Golden Gate Atlas Materials company has scored again in public service to this community.

The new aggregates plant, pictured above, located on Junipero Serra boulevard near School street, is a structure of unique architectural beauty. Measuring approximately 60 feet high and 150 feet long the building is finished modernistically in sheet metal and white stucco.

Local residents and officials have repeatedly complimented the company on erecting such an unusually attractive plant. The Daly City Chamber of Commerce at their last regular meeting, voted a compliment to be sent to company officials.

To make Daly City a more beautiful community is only an auxiliary feature of the Golden Gate Atlas Company—to serve local contractors and home owners with the best in aggregate materials at reasonable prices is, of course, the primary reason for construction of the Junipero Serra boulevard unit.

Five miscellaneous storage bunkers with a capacity of 75 tons each; four batching bunkers, 60 ton capacity each; 1500 barrel cement silo divided into four compartments for different brands; batching and ready mix equipment, with all necessary auxiliary services are the main features comprising the new plant.

COMPLETE LINE

Golden Gate Atlas has also recently stocked a complete line of metal lath, plastering materials, brick mortar, putty and other miscellaneous building supplies.

Pick-up and delivery service are traditionally excellent with the company.

Officials who have directed the construction of the new plant and who are supervising its operations are: Carroll Stephens, general manager; S. L. Crawford, branch manager and F. E. Jameson, plant superintendent.

COMPLETE FIRST RUN ON D. C. DIRECTORY

First run on the Daly City Commercial and Civic directory went to press this week. Last minute details are being whipped into shape and the completed book will be ready for distribution soon.

Ten thousand copies are being printed and bound for free distribution to all local residents, new families and World's Fair visitors.

SCOUT WEEK

"Scouting promotes real American citizenship" was the theme of Boy Scout Week, February 8 to 14. Daly City and San Francisco scouts participated in activities of the week.

Veteran Firemen Hold Banquet

Daly City Veteran Firemen association held their thirteenth annual banquet at Villa Mateo last Saturday evening. More than one hundred local members and their guests attended the affair.

A. J. Gaggero, toastmaster, presented Emil Forcell a past president's badge. Peter Valente is the current president of the association.

Fountain pens were presented to Secretary Edward Ford and Treasurer Barney Hill. Walter Derham, Charles Greenfield, and Fred Shaylor, members of the San Francisco Veteran Firemen association were among the guests. Eleven past presidents of the local association were in attendance. Mayor Selmi, Councilmen Cavagnaro, Sundermann and Twisten were also honored guests.

Entertainment features, community singing, speeches, and good fellowship gestures prevailed in a spirit of high revelry during the evening.

GOVERNOR PROCLAIMS TOMORROW HOLIDAY

Governor Culbert L. Olson has proclaimed Saturday (tomorrow) as a public holiday throughout the state of California.

According to the governor's proclamation, the holiday is in recognition of the "official opening of the California Golden Gate International Exposition on Treasure Island in San Francisco Bay."

Announce Winners In Essay Contest

First and third prize in the annual Lincoln Essay contest was won by students of the Woodrow Wilson elementary school. Helen Sola, high eighth grade student won the first prize and Rita Lozano, high sixth grade student won the third prize. The second prize was won by Nilo Siminini, low eighth grade student at the Jefferson school.

Helen Sola this year will be the honored student to have her name engraved on the bronze plaque of Lincoln. The plaque will be kept in the Woodrow Wilson school for the entire year until the next contest takes place.

The Daly City Record will publish the essay which won first prize next week.

Revive Days of '49 At Exposition Premiere

A life time of exciting events will be compressed into 48 gala hours tomorrow and Sunday when the World's Fair Premiere formally opens the Golden Gate International Exposition. During the Premiere, the glorious history of the West will live again in all of its dramatic charm as the entire State of California takes part in ushering in the event of events.

Throughout California a gigantic "one-week-to-go" celebration is being staged, including rallies, balls, torchlight parades and all of the other sparkling accessories of a giant festival.

San Francisco, host city for the World's Fair, started its celebration a week ahead of the Premiere and was ready to "whoop it up" in true Western fashion for seven days. There was a monster Pageant of the West, fireworks, a beauty contest, a '49'er ball and an illuminated night parade. Bedlam broke loose in various parts of the city as be-whiskered merchants and professional men in various districts of the city staged impromptu celebrations.

Men and boys have decked themselves in jeans, ten-gallon hats, gaudy cowboy neckerchiefs and shirts of all hues. Those who are able are growing beards which they are

Peterson Pledges County To Pay Share of Survey

Requests of United States Public Health Service and Washington for assurances San Mateo county would pay local costs of the health department survey it has requested, and would put into effect recommendations of the survey, received quick answer from County Executive Frederick Peterson Tuesday.

Although the USPHS request was routed through State Health Director Walter M. Dickie to the board of supervisors, Peterson took charge. He asked Dr. Dickie to assure USPHS the county would pay its share of the costs and would put into effect any reasonable recommendations.

PATROL RENEWS WAR ON SPEEDERS, DRUNKS

Spurred by three pedestrian fatalities over the week-end, all of which occurred in incorporated territory however, the state highway patrol early this week launched a renewal of its war on speeders, reckless drivers and drunken drivers.

One alleged drunk driver was jailed, two high school boys cited for seventy miles an hour and more than a dozen motorists nabbed for sixty miles an hour or more during one twenty-four hour period.

trimming in all styles. Those who cannot grow luxurious enough hirsute appendages are contenting themselves with mustaches and side burns.

Women, too, are dressed in colored garments of early Spanish days in California.

All of this hustle and bustle is in preparation for the two great opening days of the Exposition which is the result of four years of intense effort on the part of those who built it.

In these four years, Treasure Island has grown from a roll of engineers' plans to a vital and enchantingly beautiful city of 400 acres. As if by magic this gorgeous city has risen in the middle of San Francisco Bay and as the 288 days of the Exposition go forward, the events and entertainments scheduled for the Premiere days will be recalled again and again as having brought more glamour and color than was ever packed between the pages of A Thousand and One Arabian Nights.

Portals of the Pacific on Treasure Island open at 8 a. m. tomorrow, but

THE TOWN SHOW CAPS DALY CITY FIESTA EVENTS

Wednesday Night Parade
Draws Large Crowd
Of Spectators

STORES DECORATED

Hi-ho and Yi-pi! Fiesta fever has taken Daly City by storm. Major feature of the entire celebration is the gala "TOWN SHOW" at Daly City theater Thursday evening, February 16. Daly City Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring activities here.

Color, romance, and glamor of local premiere activities will peaked by this epochal event—the Town Show. The all-western town show will feature a wild, blood and thunder vaudeville show, whisker derby, and cowgirl costume contest in addition to a thrilling western moving picture. Twenty grub stakes will be given away as door prizes.

The theater carnival will be as noisy as Wednesday night's parade, as colorful as California in the early days, and as hilarious as old Barbary Coast. Everybody's going to the Big TOWN SHOW.

Following the theater party there will be a street dance on San Pedro road in front of the Colma Bank of America, sponsored by the Night Owl's Club and merchants of Southern Daly City and Colma.

PARADE

Wednesday evening's parade led by Police Chief Hilton, mounted on a typical western saddle horse, stretched away in a noisy six block procession. Horsemen, covered wagons, buggies, trucks, fire equipment, and dozens of private entries traveled through every section of Daly City to stimulate fiesta spirit.

Among the more than one hundred local and guest riders was San Mateo County's sheriff's posse led by Mayor Lawson of Bayshore City. Many horses for local riders were furnished by Triangle Riding Stables.

DECORATIONS

Enthusiastically taking their parts in making over the modern West into the "Forty-Niner West" for the World's Fair Premiere, many Daly City firms have sprouted out in an array of false fronts that will make even the most hardened Fair visitor gape in awe.

The Samoa Cafe, near the County Line, took on a decidedly old-fashioned attire of old boards, buggy lanterns and shotguns. Frank Weber, under whose direction the change is taking place, is making arrangements for a covered wagon of pioneer vin-

CITY ATTORNEY ADVISES COUNCIL TO REJECT PLAN

Says Contract Might Be Disadvantage
Later On

To reject the utility franchise proposed for Daly City by the Pacific Gas and Electric company was advised by City Attorney Rapsey at Monday evening's council meeting.

"The contract in its present proposed form," Rapsey said, "may in the future work a disadvantage on this community. However," he pointed out, "granting of the franchise would undoubtedly bring an annual income to the city ranging from $1000 to $2000."

On Rapsey's recommendation, the council rejected the proposed franchise.

Abatement procedure was started on property located at 7300 Mission street. This action by the councilmen is in line with their policy of having removed a number of local buildings which are vacant and dilapidated.

One hundred dollars was appropriated to make a thorough survey of the practicability of establishing bus service to San Francisco via Twin Peaks Tunnel. It is proposed to send post cards to residents and determine how many passengers may be expected to ride the busses if service is established.

Arthur Bodien was authorized to proceed as rapidly as possible with preparations for installing a traffic signal at Mission and Market streets in southern Daly City.

high noon will see the start of impressive ceremonies which will officially open the Exposition.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

As the hands of the clock meet at the hour of twelve, the giant 44-bell carillon in the Tower of the Sun will sound the hour, its inspiring tones echoing through the beautiful courts and gardens. Then a corps of trumpeteers will play a muted call from a rampart in the Court of the Nations. This moving prelude will mark the start of impressive dedication ceremonies.

From a special grandstand in the Court of the Nations a large proportion of the Premiere visitors will be able to witness dedicatory events. Leaders of the four religions will offer an invocation of thanksgiving. Then a hymn of joy will be sung by a mixed chorus of 500 trained voices.

Following this, officials of the Exposition, state and city, will speak briefly. At 12:30 p. m. President Roosevelt will deliver a nationwide address from Washington. This broadcast by the President will start the $50,000,000 Exposition on its jubilant way through 288 eventful days. At the conclusion of the President's address, two world-famed soloists will join with the chorus, the 100-piece band and the music of the carillon in a stirring anthem.

The Premiere has aptly been called "The opening of a thousand shows." In every field of entertainment the World's Fair will offer a host of gala presentations.

Large Percentage Of Shows Are Free

There will be more free shows per square foot on Treasure Island than in any world's fair in history. Once inside the admission gates, a thousand shows in the Big Show will be available to all—and 75 per cent of them will cost nothing, according to Leland W. Cutler, president of the Golden Gate International Exposition.

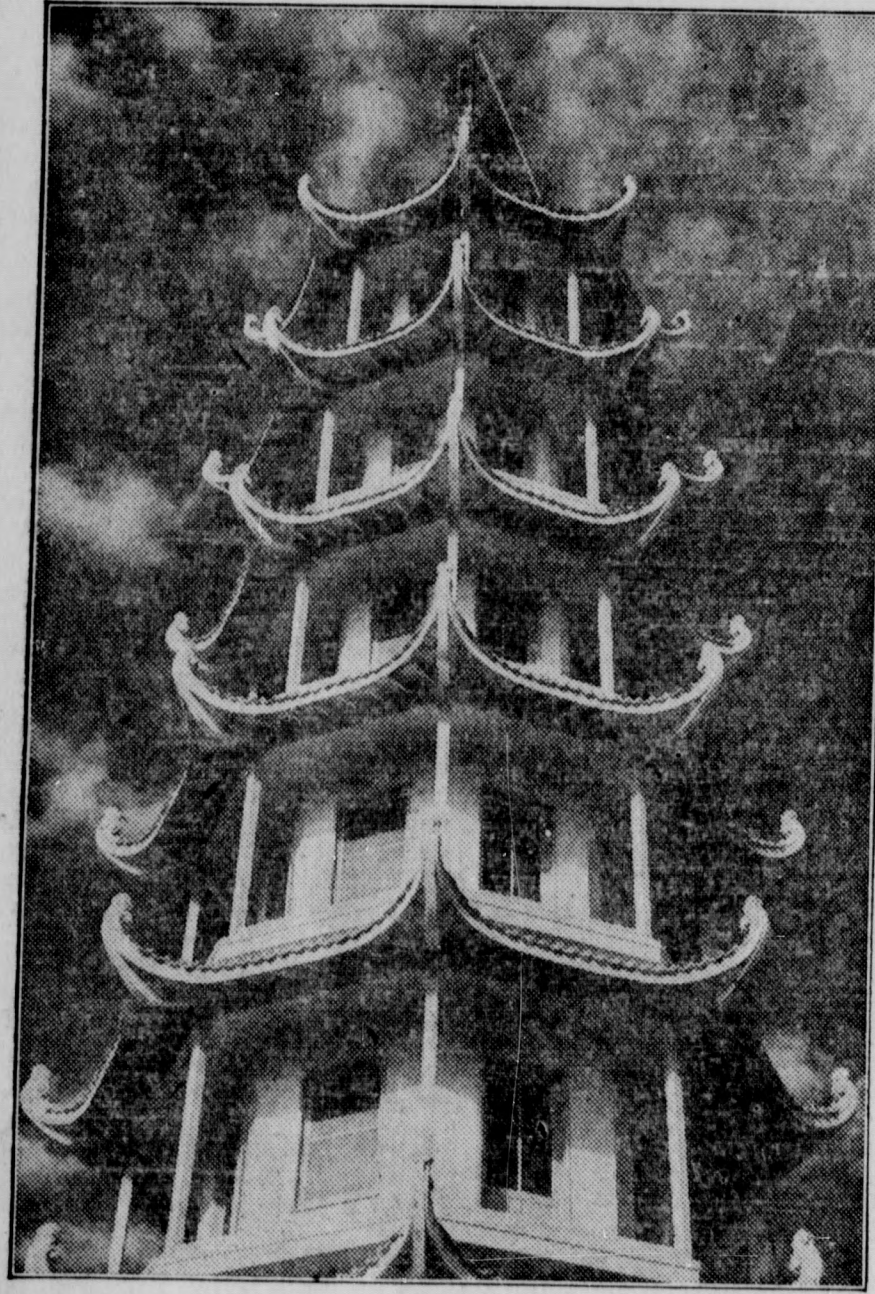

Visitors can wander gratis from wonder to shining wonder in exhibit palaces, or stroll free down avenues, or along courts and gardens of such surpassing beauty they might have been transported from a Persian Shah's domain.

It won't cost a cent to watch the undulating dances of the maidens of Bali, to smell the perfume of Hawaiian flowers, to wander through a South American coffee plantation, to see a Japanese feudal castle.

Everybody can see—gratis—American Indians holding the mightiest pow-wow ever assembled, and watch them working at immemorial crafts. They can see crude oil refined, a model home fashioned from steel, a flourishing farm where crops are grown in chemicals instead of soil, garbage being converted into fabrics, dyes and explosives.

The public can listen to the world's finest band concerts, just by sitting down on a public bench; see marine parades, fireworks, and folk pageants of all nations. Symphony concerts in the Federal auditorium will also be free.

Treasure Island Pagoda

Dominating spire of beauty in the Gayway at the California World's Fair is this six story pagoda in the $1,200,000 Chinese Village concession, a walled city of more than 4 acres of beauty and the charm of Old Cathay.

Title Dates Set

Personal invitations have been extended by the Planters Nut and Chocolate company to the dealers and when they present their invitations, Mr. Peanut will give each a package of nuts, done up in a souvenir bag.

Fair Crew Regatta
Scheduled July 1
The Golden Gate International Intercollegiate crew regatta has been set for July 1 over the Treasure Island course.
The field will be limited to five eight-oared crews with California, Washington and Wisconsin definitely signed up and with two outstanding eastern crews yet to be invited. The race will be over a 2,000-meter course.

Belli Motor Co. Works to Set New Sales Record

Belli Motor company, local Chevrolet dealer, is trying to sell a record number of new Chevrolets this month and is planning to give appraisals far in excess of the market figure on all cars turned in on new Chevrolets during February, according to M. J. Soldavini, manager.

"Because our reputation for giving the best used car values in this area in our reconditioned Red OK Tag used car, we have had our used car stock practically cleaned out," said Soldavini. "As a result we need used cars, of every make and model, and we are willing to pay exceptionally high prices to get them."

"That is the reason we have chosen February for the month in which to break our all time new car sales record and why we have designated it as high appraisal month. We know that with the attractive appraisals we are now offering, people will realize that this is really the chance of a lifetime to get into truly modern transportation and at little outlay of money."

"The new 1939 Chevrolet with its myriad features is America's number one sales leader because people have found that it is the lowest priced, full powered, full sized car on the market," concluded Soldavini. "With its perfected vacuum gear shift at slight extra cost, and its perfected hydraulic brakes and perfected knee-action it is the newest car in the low priced field."

Jeff Basketeers Meet South S. F.

Tonight, Friday, the Jefferson Indians hoopsters will play the South San Francisco basketball team. The game will be played on the local high school court with the visitors' varsity team as favorites. The 130's will probably play a very close game. Alumni as well as other local residents are expected to turn out in large numbers.

Last week Jefferson's mighty 130 team went down to defeat in another thrilling game in which Jefferson lost in the closing minutes of the game. The two teams were as evenly matched as could be possible with the exception of Burlingame having more height. Gene Doyle and Bob Savelly played outstanding basketball, fourteen points for Doyle and five for Savelly. The Indians were ahead in the last quarter with the score at 18 to 17 but finally the Jeffersonians tired and Burlingame forged ahead to win by a score of 27, with 22 points for the Indians.

Treasure Island will have more than 100 miles of paved roads when the California World's Fair opens February 18.

Here's Good News

The National Safety Council announces that the United States has cut its all-accidental death toll by 10,200 during 1938.

Traffic, work and public accidents all showed substantial reductions, but home accidents increased over last year's total—and increased to the point where more people were killed in home accidents last year than in traffic!

This is the greatest improvement in the accident picture ever recorded in a single year, the council pointed out.

But the battle is still far from won. As long as 95,000 people were killed in a single year by accidents, there is much to be done before we can throw our hats in the air.

Caution and foresight can prevent accidents. Let's keep the accident curve pointed downward during 1939!

SAN MATEO COUNTY TRAFFIC SAFETY COMMISSION.

Bids have been opened by the California Division of Highways for construction of three viaducts in the city of San Francisco, according to the touring department of the National Automobile club. The construction will be on State Route No. 56, between Lake street and the Golden Gate bridge approach.

A. L. TIMOSSO GIVES ADVANCE TRAFFIC DATA

Explains Procedure For Driving To Exposition

For the benefit of Daly City motorists, advance information concerning traffic approaches to the Golden Gate International Exposition on Treasure Island was given yesterday by A. L. Timossi, Chrysler-Plymouth dealer here.

"Automobile traffic to Treasure Island will enter the exposition from both the Oakland and San Francisco bridge approaches," said Timossi. Motorists proceeding from San Francisco will pass through the tunnel on Yerba Buena island, turn to the right and circle the island to a special toll gate, then to the entrance of the exposition. Likewise, motorists from the Oakland side will pass through the tunnel and turn to the right, entering the causeway to the island. Motorists entering from the East bay will pay the toll at the regular Oakland toll gate. In each case, the bridge toll will cover both going and returning, or one toll for the round trip.

Six-Lane Highway

"Proceeding down a six-lane highway toward the island," continued Timossi, "the motorist will enter directly into the Avenue of Palms on the westerly side of the island, passing beneath the pedestrian overpasses to the west ferry slips, straight toward the north end of the island and into the parking area which extends virtually the full width of the island, and will accommodate about 12,000 automobiles."

Timossi stated that the parking fee on Treasure Island has been tentatively set at 50 cents. It would, however, be subject to reduction later on, provided the volume of business justified it.

The local Chrysler-Plymouth dealer pointed out that motorists who wish to visit the Chrysler exhibit, which is said to be one of the most striking in the entire exposition, in the Vacationland building, may reach it after parking their cars, by walking south on Heather road, through the Court of Pacifica, and the Court of the Seven Seas. The entrance to the Vacationland building flanks the Court of the Seven Seas and the Tower of the Sun.

The Big Basin State park will be increased in area by eleven hundred acres from the Berry creek watershed and adjoining Butano Forest, if the State Park commission's biennial budget is approved by the legislature, reports the San Jose office of the National Automobile club.

Welcome, Stranger

Upon the motorists of California rests a large share of the responsibility for maintaining the reputation of their state for friendly and hospitable treatment of the motoring visitor. This year the responsibility will be increased by the record flow of motor tourist travel the Golden Gate International Exposition is expected to attract.

The visitor, coming from all parts of the nation, may not be sure of our driving regulations. If he seems a bit uncertain or over-cautious in his effort to make the right move, or makes some small slip, let us treat him tolerantly and not hammer our horns and zip by with the angry glares some of us turn on for the local transgressor.

Now is the perfect time to give the outsider a kindly impression of the California motorist, to carry back and use as a comparative reference on his own home-towners. Let him take home with him not only respect for a people who can bring forth the splendor of such a magnificent pageant, but the warming thought that its creators have not become arrogant because of their achievement. The admiration the visitor may come to have for California and its people can easily be honked and glared into a quite different feeling.

Let us point our hospitality in the direction of the out-of-state license plates we may meet. Each motorist who practices courtesy toward the visitor will help to nullify any thoughtless treatment he may receive from the boors on our public highways. Let us make the most of this opportunity to try our good road manners on the visiting tourist. Perhaps the idea will stick and beget a lasting courtesy of the road.

SOMETHING NEW IN A LUNCHEON OR SUPPER DISH
Tuna fish! Truly this food holds a unique place in the field of fish cookery because of its adaptability. It is popular with many people who perhaps do not ordinarily care for fish, because its flavor and texture are almost like those of chicken. In fact, many a tuna fish dish has been consumed with the family or guests under the impression that they were enjoying chicken.

A delightful new tuna fish recipe is Tuna Palmilla which would be a credit to any hostess who prides herself on serving new and unusual dishes. This recipe is based on what was originally intended for a hot appetizer. But the demands for "bigger and better" portions soon had it up in the entire class where one receives a generous helping to start with and can ask for "seconds" without blushing. Yes, it's truly as delicious as all that!

TUNA PALMILLA

1 jar (7 ounces) tuna fish, drained and flaked
1/2 cup catsup
1/2 cup finely diced celery
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
6 slices bread, 1/4-inch thick

Butter bread generously on both sides. Toast. Combine ingredients. Pile on toast. Top each slice of toast with 2 teaspoons mayonnaise, 2 teaspoons catsup, and 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Place under hot broiler until browned and bubbling. Serves 6.

In planning a party luncheon with Tuna Palmilla as the piece de resistance, you need nothing more than a mixed green salad and some hot rolls to complete the main part of the meal. But what an occasion you can make of that salad!

With the French, you know, making such a salad is more than just preparing food. It is a work of art, a social grace, an achievement in a subtle combination of flavors, colors, and textures. The French housewife starts her salad by first going to market with her basket on her arm and a look of determination on her face. Somehow, she manages to procure for her own basket the crispest lettuce, the most solid cucumber, the reddest tomatoes, and the most tender radishes there are in the stalls. Home with her trophies, she washes and picks over everything carefully, then ties the greens up in a piece of thin cheesecloth and leaning over the balcony shakes them vigorously until not a drop of water remains.

This done, the cucumber and tomatoes are cut in firm little chunks or wedges, the radishes sliced ever so thin and the lettuce is broken—not cut—into small pieces. All these are placed in a big salad bowl (wiped out with a "wisp" of garlic) and set on the table. Beside it is a tray or a revolving castor set containing the oil, the vinegar, and necessary condiments.

Then she mixes the French dressing right at the table. First she pours out the oil; then she adds the salt, pepper, and her choice of seasonings. And finally she adds the vinegar. Then a cautious taste or two. A dash more of this and a pinch of that. A second taste. A smile of satisfaction wreaths her face.

Then the dressing is poured over the salad and tossed lightly over and over. Her salad is complete. It is perfect.

Voilà!

And what this skilled French woman does, the American housewife has recently adopted as her own. Large wooden salad bowls, with fork and spoon to match, have become a social asset, almost a necessity, and it now seems perfectly natural to see bottles of oil and vinegar and condiments put right on the table in their original glass containers.

The American woman, however, has one great advantage over her sister salad-maker across the water. She can buy an abundance of salad materials the year 'round, and she usually has the benefits of refrigeration. Furthermore, she can now purchase a new spiced vinegar which is flavored with a subtle blend of herbs and spices.

Truly such a Tuna Palmilla luncheon menu will prove a social success whenever it is served. Try it!

CIVIC PROGRESS

By Mayor Selmi

STREET WORK

In answer to my telegram sent Congressman John Z. Anderson in regard to securing WPA approval of the street work project in the southern end of Daly City we have a reply that is not very encouraging. In fact, approval of this project cannot be made under the present enactment of Congress passed in 1938 which provides that any projects to receive WPA grants must be started on or before January 1, 1939.

Any hopes for the passage of our street work project must depend on new legislation being passed extending the above time limit.

TRANSPORTATION

On our transportation problem we have arrived at the point where co-operation from the people of our city will be needed.

This project is going to entail an expenditure of about $2000.00 for the purchase of used busses to make a trial test. We want to be reasonably sure that the idea will be self-supporting. In order to get this assurance, cards will be mailed to every home in Daly City in which questions will be asked regarding the public use of these busses.

Watch for these cards and answer fully the questions asked on them. If you should not receive a card within the next two weeks please make it your business to call on the city clerk and get one.

Better transportation for our people will depend on what favorable information we can compile from the cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene McDaniels, San Diego avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Borges, Parkview avenue, motored to Polk Gulch, Saturday evening, where they spent a delightful evening.

Actor Writes

Cookbook Foreword

LEO CARILLO, noted actor, writer and politico, exposes another side of his personality in a foreword to Prudence Penny's new cookbook, just published. He likes to eat.

Carillo confesses that, as he looked through the proof sheets of the new cookbook, his gastric juices flowed within him until he was in danger of drowning from the inside. Prudence Penny's cookbook, Carillo claims, is incomplete in only one respect—insofar as it relates to man. No man ever born of woman, says he, has ever learned how to tidy up the premises after he had finished concocting his masterpieces of cookery.

Prudence Penny's Cookbook is published by Prentice-Hall and is dedicated to all the men in the world who like to eat.

A passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included, which reads as follows: "There can be but one Mind, because there is but one God; and if mortals claimed no other Mind and accepted no other, sin would be unknown. #### FUEL MIXTURE

Proper fuel mixture is important for efficient operation of the automobile engine, according to the Emergency Road service of the California State Automobile association. If the mixture is too rich (too much gasoline for the amount of air) the engine will have a tendency to over-heat, waste fuel, and develop carbon deposits. A lean mixture, or too little gasoline in proportion to air, tends to cause hard starting and lack of power.

Set Up Reciprocal National Program

Fifty-four non-profit groups which insure 3,000,000 people against cost of their hospital bills in major cities of the country, decided this week to set up a reciprocal program under which the facilities of each will be available to the members of all groups.

The action was taken at Cleveland, Ohio, where executives of the hospital service plans are meeting as a section of the American Hospital association.

Immediate effect of the new arrangement in the Bay area will be that persons who belong to the "three-cents-a-day" plans in other cities will have their hospitalization needs guaranteed when they visit here during the exposition and in subsequent periods.

The same provision will apply to 22,000 members of the Insurance Association of Approved Hospitals, the hospital service plan operating in the Bay area, when they leave their home territory to visit any other city in the United States, according to J. Philo Nelson, general manager.

All-Negro Musical Will Set Record

Now in its fifth week the Federal Theatre production of the all-negro musical drama "Run Little Chillun" is set for an all time Federal theatre attendance record in view of the arrival of thousands of exposition visitors in the city. Many out of state reservations have been received at the Alcazar theatre during the past few days indicating that the fame of the production has gone beyond state borders.

"Run Little Chillun" has enjoyed a phenomenal run wherever produced, first in New York, next in Los Angeles where the play is in its twenty-ninth week and now in San Francisco. The cast is made up of 150 colored singers, dancers, and actors. All of the music was arranged by Hall Johnson, noted negro choral director who ranks first in screen and radio work requiring masses choral singers. Ticket reservations have been made as far ahead as the middle of March but, it was announced today at the Alcazar, there are desirable seats on hand on the day of every performance. The arrival of the Exposition crowds will, it is believed, result in keeping the play on for weeks to come.

When A. J. Cronin Wrote "Citadel" He Had Robert Donat in Mind for Doctor Role

M-G-M Studios Concurred with Author's Views in Filming Best-Seller

When Dr. A. J. Cronin wrote the novel that was to place him at the top of the best-seller list in both England and America, he wrote it with the idea that Robert Donat would be its ideal star should the book ever reach the screen.

The book, "The Citadel," has reached the screen, and M-G-M in filming it as its second British-made production, following on the successful "Yank at Oxford," concurred with the author's views in its selection of the male star.

For Robert Donat plays Dr. Andrew Manson in the filmization of "The Citadel," which will be shown starting Sunday at the Daly City theatre, with the American Rosalind Russell enacting the doctor's wife and other prominent roles in a cast of one hundred speaking parts filled by such well-known British artists as Ralph Richardson, Rex Harrison, Emyln Williams and Penelope Dudley-Ward, under the direction of King Vidor.

Two years ago when Cronin had already become a best-selling author, he felt the urge for a home hidden from the trespassers on his private life. With his wife he searched the countryside, touring the south coast of England, seeking a place where he might settle and bring a new novel about a doctor into being. Finally, one day Cronin came up a narrow lane on Sussex Downs. Here behind a high hedge, through a white gateway, was a square, solid stone house, an old rectory. Here "The Citadel" was written, subsequently to become alive on the screen.

To Cronin his writing is, in his own words, "hard work." There is nothing of the hack scribbler about him. His original manuscripts are models of accuracy and afterthought. Large spaces between the words allow for neatness of correction; long lines drawn finely through whole passages show his care in reading through, his keen striving after the right phrase.

Blue-eyed, sandy-haired, with a humorous mouth, there is very little about Cronin to suggest the grim power of his thoughts in book form. Almost everything belies him as the man who drew such gripping and forceful characters in "The Citadel." He strolls across his lawns with his dog; sometimes plays a little tennis, sometimes has some golf practice.

Companion picture on the new bill will be "Hard to Get," starring Dick Powell and Olivia De Havilland.

At the top of the hill, Milo's Market has also taken on a pioneer aspect, both inside and out. Heavily-bearded clerks scurry about inside and creaky old boards hide all semblance of modern architecture along the front of the store.

Gelsi's Place, on the West side of Mission street, is bedecked in old boards chalked with humorous warnings against the riding of horses on the inside and other such pranks. Donati's Place boasts of 49'er decorations inside as well as on the outside, with clever Western cut-outs and signs depicting life in the "good old days."

Hilltop Lodge has gone distinctly Spanish. Its white stucco walls are attractively decorated with cut-out figures in gay costumes.

Henry Warshawski, whose windows are replete with Fiesta garb, has had the front of his store done over in rough logs.

Even the Daly City water department has entered into the spirit of marching time backward. The original "Water Department," a 250-gallon storage tank and pump used in 1907 by the then few Daly City residents, now is on display in front of the water department at 6387 Mission street.

At the South End, Les's Place is the most ornate, with an old-fashioned front garnished with buck-horns, stuffed owls, old lanterns and last but not least, an effigy, called "Gravy Bob," hanging from the top of the building from an improvised scaffold. A water trough that really contains water graces the sidewalk in front of the store, along with a hitching rack and a bale of hay.

Gay dinners, sumptuous banquets, and lively parties have passed in rapid review during recent weeks at Daly City's fine night club, Villa Mateo, located on Junipero Serra boulevard and School street.

Ocean Avenue Merchants Association recently held their seventh annual installation dinner dance at the villa. More than one hundred members and guests attended this outstanding affair.

JAYWALKERS

No suicide squad of any army of the world ever marched in the face of the enemy with more aplomb than jaywalkers, according to the safety department of the National Automobile club. Those who "jaywalk in haste and repent in leisure" may be seen any day. They dash out from the curb, looking neither to the right or left; whether the light is red, green or amber. Proof that they do not get away with it is seen in the report that in most cities pedestrians make up two-thirds of the traffic toll.

The average time a pedestrian has to wait for a light to change is 15 seconds. To gain those 15 seconds, jaywalkers risk weeks in the hospital, possibly death.

DAILIES CARRY SFPI ADVERTISEMENTS

The largest advertisement produced this year by San Francisco Peninsula, Incorporated, (5 columns x 17 inches) appears this week in the special World's Fair editions of all four San Francisco dailies, according to John W. Rutherford of San Carlos, director of S. F. P. I.

Headlined, "Come For A Day—You'll Want To Stay," the message includes a cordial invitation to city readers to "leave highways for byways, and explore," and to "inspect homes and homelies with outdoor living rooms where warm sunshine dwells."

Like all S. F. P. I. advertisements, this one emphasizes The Peninsula's accessibility with the phrase, "Toll-Free," strongly displayed.

New Poultry Plant Opens This Week

This week adds another establishment to the business life of the Daly City-Colma community with the opening of the Davis Poultry Plant, located on El Camino Real about half a mile south of the Cypress Hill cemetery.

Owned and operated by Robert M. Davis, this concern will specialize in the production of prime broilers and the sale of day-old baby chicks, as well as selling poultry feed and poultry equipment.

Mr. Davis has had many years of experience in the science of poultry husbandry. A graduate of Cornell university, he has had long, practical training in all phases of the industry—breeding, incubation, egg production, broiler production and the marketing of fancy dressed poultry.

The new plant provides a source from which local flocks may be replenished immediately with day-old chicks. Feed and suitable equipment for efficient poultry raising are also featured.

The greater part of the new plant's 500-a-week broiler production will be for wholesale distribution, although Mr. Davis expects a large local retail patronage for broilers as well. The plant is equipped to handle about 6,000 young chicks, all housed in the latest type of electrically-operated batteries or cages.

To prevent rain or snow from adhering to the windshield try applying a mixture of two ounces of glycerine, one ounce of water, and one dram of salt, suggests the Emergency Road Service of the California State Automobile Association. The mixture should be applied to the glass with cheese cloth, wiping up and down.
